MERCOSUR – EUROPEAN UNION

GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES. STRATEGIC LEGAL SUPPORT.

The progress of the Mercosur–European Union agreement marks a new phase in international trade relations, expanding markets, stimulating investment flows, and enhancing regulatory integration between both blocs. While the economic potential is significant, companies must be adequately prepared from a legal, regulatory, and contractual perspective to fully benefit from these opportunities.

Economic studies point to positive impacts on Brazil's GDP, trade balance, and foreign direct investment. Tariff reductions, the gradual removal of non-tariff barriers, and access to a market of over 700 million consumers offer substantial competitive advantages for exporters in sectors such as agribusiness, manufacturing, technology, and services.

At the same time, the agreement brings stricter regulatory standards, particularly in environmental, sanitary, labor, compliance, and governance matters. Successful market entry and expansion require robust legal structuring, international contract design, regulatory compliance, and comprehensive due diligence.

In this context, RONALDO MARTINS & Advogados, through its international hub in Madrid, provides end-of-end legal assistance to companies seeking to expand their exports, investments, and business activities within the European Union. The Madrid office serves as a strategic bridge between Mercosur and Europe, combining local expertise with international legal insight.

Our services include:

- legal structuring of international trade and investment operations.
- regulatory compliance aligned with EU standards.

- drafting and negotiating international contracts.
- legal support for financing, guarantees, and trade finance operations.
- assistance in dispute resolution, international legal cooperation, and asset protection.

With a strong European presence and a global perspective, the firm supports clients in transforming regulatory and commercial opportunities into sustainable and secure business growth.
